THE TWENTY-THIRD-ST. TRAGEDY. WELL-KNOWN LAWYER ARRESTED-A LUDI-CROUS MISTAKE-THE ROCKLAND COUNTY

On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Thomas Dunphy, well-known lawyer of this city, called on some friends the Nathan murder. A young woman living in the house Mr. Dunphy to be the murderer, communicated her sus-picions to Patroiman Murphy of the Fourth Precinet, on Mr. Danphy to be the murderer, communicated her suspicions to Patrolman Murphy of the Fourth Precinet, on post in the vicinity. The officer entered the house, took Mr. Dunphy into custody in spite of the assertions of the latter that he could readily prove who he was, and took him to the headquarters of the Brooklyn Felice. Mr. Dunphy was taken into custody soon after 5 o'clock p. m., and was detained until after 1 o'clock a. m. In the mean time, he was closely questioned by Chief of Police Patrick Campbell and the Headquarters detectives. His assertions that he was Mr. Dunphy, and that he was well acquainted with Mayor Hall, Wm. M. Tweed, Peter B. Sweeny, and hosts of lawyers and politicians, were received with incredialoss smilles and headshakings, and the irritated and disgusted lawyer was informed that he knew he was lying and that his real name was Gilbert. Finally, it was decided to bring the alleged mirriderer to this cily. Accompanied by Officer Murphy and one of the officers attached to the Brooklyn Headquarters, Mr. Dunphy was placed in a carriage and driven to the Police Headquarters in Mulberry-st. Superntendent Jourdan was not in the building, he and Capit. Kelso being engaged in working upsome information relative to the murder. After waiting in vaim nearly an hour, it was decided to visit his bouse in Frince-st. The Superintendent had not reached home, and for nearly an hour one of the officers rang the door-bell, the hackman varying the performance by kicking at the panel of the door. The effect of this onshaught was to frighten exceedingly Mrs. Jourdan and the female domeste. Supposing the noise was occasioned by a drunken party who wished to obtain the release of a companion from a police cell, neither of the women would venture down stairs to the door. The dan and the female domestic. Supposing the loads was becasioned by a drunker party who wished to obtain the release of a companion from a police cell, neither of the known would venture down stairs to the door. The beell-pull was finally broken, and finding that no response was made by the immates of the house, although nearly the entire neighborhood was roused by the noise they made, the officers took their prisoner to Police Headquarters, and there he remained nutil 7 o'clock, a. m., when the Superintendent and Capt. Kelso arrived. Both have known Mr. Dunjby for several years, and were considerably astonished when they learned the crime with which he was charged. Mr. Dunjby soon explained the circumstances which gave rise to the suspicion that he was the numbers of Mr. Nathan. The Superintendent declined to take any action whatever in the matter. Mr. Dunjby was arrested by the Pelice of Kings County, and Chief of Police Campbell was the officer to adjudicate on the case. Mr. Dunjby was accordingly taken back to Brooklyn. It is understood that Mr. Dunjby will commence suits for false imprisonment against those who were concerned in his arrest and detention.

The following official reports have been submitted to superint adent Jourdan relative to the suspected man in

It had been arranged that a bust of Daniel applauded, and at its close the bust was divested of the green flag and Stars and Stripes which had concealed it from the people. The Mayor, invited guests, and officers of the Association then adjourned to the Committee room, where all had a very feetive time. Among the notabilities were Fernando Wood, Thoman Coman, Thomas C. Fields, and the Rev. Father Corrigan, from Cork. A letter of apology was received from the Hon. Richard L. Larremore, who was prevented being present by liness in his family. At 64 the company separated, and the Mayor took his departure and three hearty cheers. The rank and file of the Association enjoyed themselves to an advanced hour. The St. Patrick's P. M. A. B. Association is only in existence is months, and numbers 4,000 members.

The bust is of plaster of Paris, and a face-simile of the bronze one to be creeted in Central Fark. It was presented to the Association by the artist. It stood on a wooden pedestal, painted to resemble marble; hight, 16 feet; that in the Fark will be 20 feet high. The bust will be removed to-day to the hall of the Association, corner of Thirteeuth-st. and University place.

FUNERAL OF FATRER SHANAHAN.

At an early hour yesterday morning St. Peter's (R. C.) Church, in Barclay-st., was well filled by the faithful, who had assembled to participate in the last sad rites of respect to the memory of the priest they loved so well.

ful, who had assembled to participate in the last and rites of respect to the memory of the priest they loved so well. The altars, pillars, galleries, and candlesticks of the church were draped in mourning, and in the center aisle, without the chancei, was placed the catafalque, surmounted by a handsome silver-mounted casket, bearing the remains of the decrased.

Appended to the casket were eight silver handles, three at each side and one at the head and foot, and upon the top was a plate bearing the name, are and decease of the Rev. Father Siamakan. The casket was opened and revealed the body dressed in priestly vestments of purple and bearing in the right hand a challee, while the continuace bore an expression of profound screnity. The services was a grand solemn mass of requiem and was amounced to take place at 10 a. m., but did not commence until near 11. A double quartette choir, under the direction of Dr. Wm. F. Pecher, sang the musse, which consisted of Cherubini's requiem and Dies Irae, followed by the Offertory (Bondine Jesu) of Mozart and the Pie Jean and Agmus Dei of Cherubini.

The sermon and enlogy on the deceased Father Shanahan was to have been delivered by Vicar-General Starrs, but in the absence of that gentleman from the city, the duty devolved upon the Rev. Pather O'Farrell, jur, sub-deacon, and 25 other priests, while scattered through the pews were probably 25 or 30 more.

The sermon, enlogistic of the deceased, his trials and labors while spreading the gospel, was substantially as follows:

The sermon, calogistic of the deceased, his trials and labors while spreading the gospel, was substantially as follows:

John Shanahan was born in Kilkenny, Ireland, in the year 1792, which was a period of persecution not only in the Church in Ireland, but also to the Church throughout Christendom. Centing to this country at an early age he commenced his studies for the priesthood. In 1828 le was ordaned priest. Bemaining for some time after his ordination in the Seminary as professor he instructed several archibishops and bishops in the first elements of philosophical and theological learning, in which he was a savan. But the placid routine of college life was insufficient, or rather totally unsuited to his active mind. Looking over the vast continent, he saw how rich and extensive the harvest was but how few the laborers in the field. He resolved to become a missionary. The first field of his labors was the whole State of New-Jersey. From New-Jersey he moved to Albany and Utica. In 1829 he left for California, where he labored for some time. On his return from this latter place he was stathoned in New-York City, and eventually became pastor of Barelay-st. R. C. Church. One of the first few priests who appeared in America during this contury, as the vanguard of the Catholic Church, his task was a most difficult and trying one, involving many sacrifices, and sometime dangerous to life.

Though for the last seven years afflicted with blindness, never did he cease to fulfill his sacerdotal obligations. At length, having fought the good fisht, he departed this life hopefully expecting the coronal justice that had been prepared for him. Upon the completion of the sermon, and while the celebrant sprinkled it with sanctified water, thus ending the ceremony.

Upon the conclusion of the Libera the congregation, which had previously been fixited, proceeded up the center aisle to view the remains and filed out through the sace doors. The casket was then closed, borne to the hearen, and from thence to the vauits of St. Pa

THE PRICE OF MILK.

About 80 of the Orange County milk dealers of New-York and neighborhood held an adjourned meeting at No. 160 Hester-st. yesterday afternoon, to determine whether or not they should pay five cents a quart for milk during August, as demanded by the farmers. Mr. James C. Coleman appeared as a delegate from the Orange County Milk Producers' Association, and invited Association at its next monthly raceting. This invita-tion was entirely disregarded, and the milkmen resolved. with indignant unanimity, that they would pay only four cents. A proposition to compromise on 4 cents was booted down with decision, and the milkness arrows are ceeded forthwith to organize themselves into a Milk Dealers' Union, by enrolling their names and paying cach an initiation fee of $2. Even the most moderach an initiation fee of $2. Even the most moderach and cenciliatory protested earnessly against what they termed "the extravagant and extortionate demands" of the farmers, and there was a strong determination manifested to resist the "five-cent robbery" by nation manifested to resist the "five-cent robbery" by nation are: H. H. Wessel, President V. E. Horton, Secretary, and George Allison, Treasurer. The next meeting will be held at the same place at 3 p. m., Aug. 17.

The farmers claim that they cannot afford to sell milk during the double of August for less than five cents, and the milkmen contend that they cannot possibly make a living and pay more than four cents a quart. Each party seems in exprest, and there is a possibility of serious difficulties, affecting even the interests of consumers, before the quarrel is ameably adjusted.

SUPREME COURT—KINGS COUNTY.

Sarah Strang, Administratrix of C. J. Strang, agt. T. Deland.—This action was brought to recover a balance of the profits of a partnership. C. J. Strang, husband of the plaintiff, now deceased, was a member of the firm of T. Deland & Co., in the commission business. The firm was formed January 1, 1866, and continued up tall May 1, 1867. In July, 1867, Mr. Strang died. When the partnership was formed it was agreed, as the plaintiff claimed, that her husband was to have II per cent of the profits, while the defendant contended that he was to have but 12 per cent, and further, that the deceased had not attended to the business while he was connected with it, and thereby lost considerably. The case was referred to S. V. Lowell, referee, who rendered a judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $1,020.

the New-York Yacht Club were arriving at Glen Cove, and some of them did not reach that place until after dark. In the evening, many of the owners were the guests of T. W. Kinnard. It is expected that all the yachts will be under weigh early this morning. The Sappho was hauled upon the dock yesterday to be cleaned, preparatory to joining the squadron.

The yacht was originally built by the Poillon Brothera, after model of Mr. Townsend's. Her first cruise was to Newport and back, under command of the Hon. E. A. Lawence, after which she was laid up, and considered by many a failure.

In 1861 her masts were shortened eight feet, and she was sent to Europe under command of Capt. Baidwin, where she was badly beaten by the Cambria.

In 1868, Mr. Douglass, her present owner, purchased her for $22,000, probably less than one-half her original cost. When she came into the possession of Mr. Douglass, David Cauli of Cruy Island, the builder of the Vesta, took a look at her, and suggested some alterations which at David Carli of City Issand, the sumer of the vessa, to a look at her, and suggested some alterations which at the time found no favor with her owner, but on the turgent entreaty of E. Platt Stratton and other friends of Mr. Douglass, she was taken to the yard of Poillon Bros., and hipped 16 inches in her midship section, running to nothing fore and aff. At the same time her main mast was slepped eight feet forward. These, with other alterations, and new sail and spars, cost $12,000.
